EXPERIENCE

Cooper N. Boddy was born and raised in San Antonio, Texas, graduated from Alamo Heights High School in 1992 and graduated from Baylor University with a BBA in Management and Marketing under a newly formed Entrepreneurship curriculum in 1996.

After graduation, Cooper worked as a financial advisor with the Lincoln Financial Group here in San Antonio. In conjunction with being a financial advisor, Cooper began working on a business plan to open an old school meat market. In 1997, Cooper opened the first Cooper's Meat Market in Alamo Heights. Cooper's went from a meat market to a fully operational catering business.

As Cooper's Meat Market flourished, Cooper himself began identifying a variety of properties to purchase, renovate, and ultimately find buyers for. In 2007, Cooper completed a 36,000 square foot, high end condominium project in Alamo Heights. Cooper is currently finishing up the planning stages of two large projects: (1) a two-phase condominium project on the sea wall in Aransas Pass. Each condominium will have a 30' boat slip, beach access and a private community pool. (2) a residential gated community in Alamo Heights consisting of eight lots and a private park.
